"Oh! It's a 'Wear-Ever' Roaster!"

Nowadays the sunroom is an integral part of the carefully planned house and it should be finished and furnished with all-year-round use in mind.

IT'S NATURE'S intention to surround a house with a small enclosed porch, not to make comfortable a year-round use of the sunroom. In winter the sunroom is used for the winter sun. In summer it is used for the summer sun.

The sunroom is a place of the year-round use, especially those built after the war or the year ago, when the sunroom was built into the house and was not a separate structure.
